

UNCLE SKULLSY

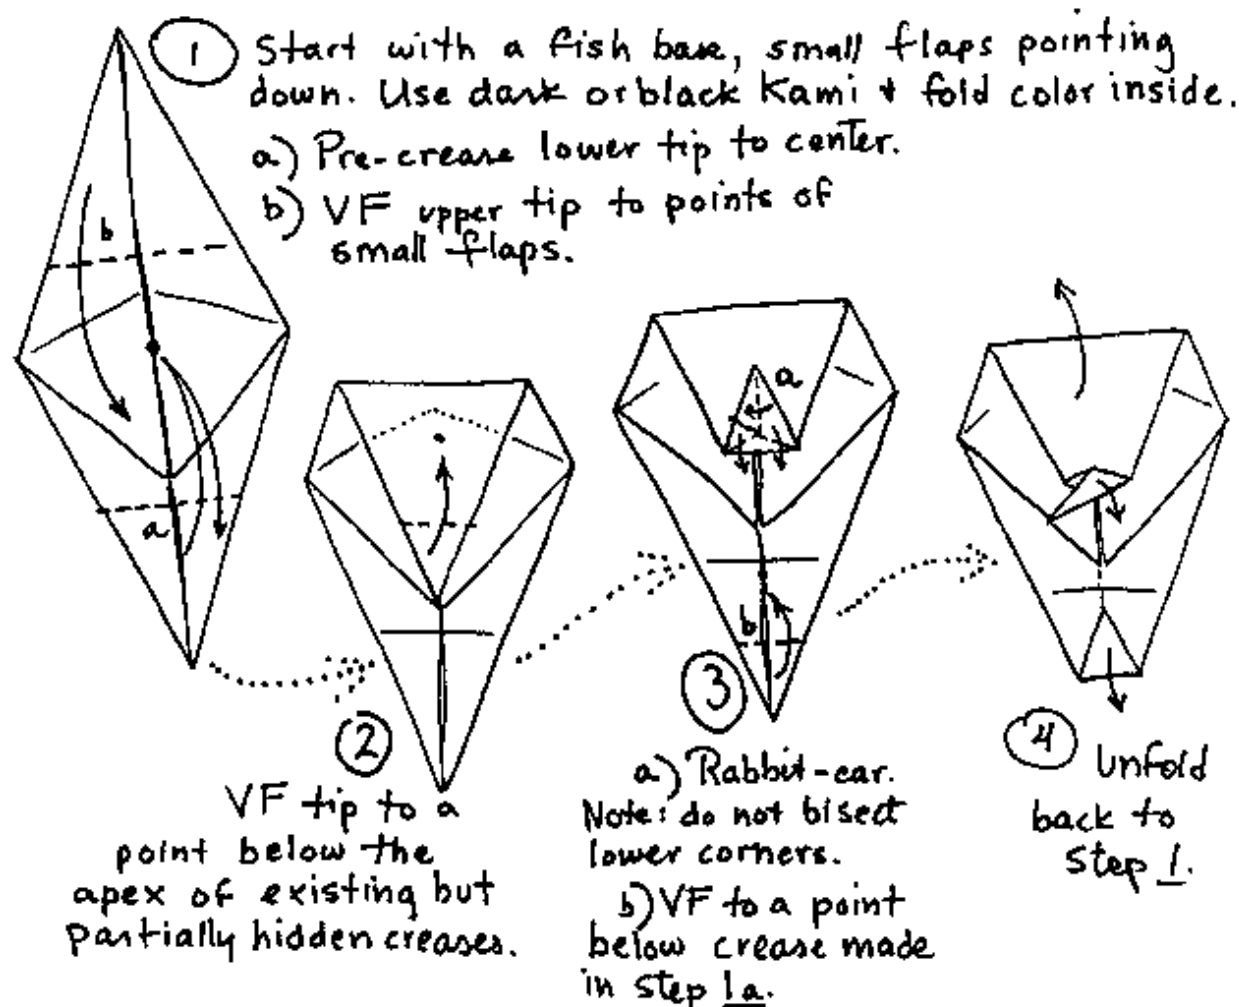

The original Uncle Skullsy was a character invented by Spider Barbour and Earl Lundy. He was a talk-show host made from a Halloween mask - a rubber skull - worn by Spider.

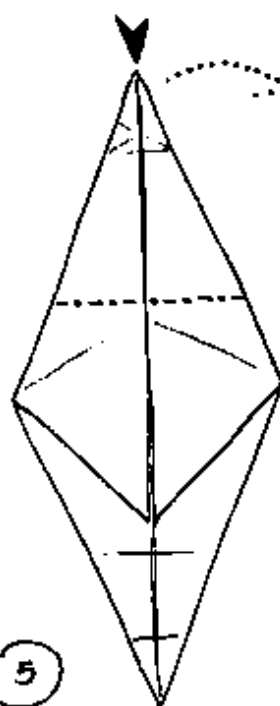

Uncle Skullsy interviewed subjects like Mr. Rocco, a deeply striated rock wearing an old felt hat, and Violet Sorry-sight and Vince Linguini, has-been actors on the comeback trail. Earl videotaped the show, in negative color for added weirdness.

A F
B

8
22
99

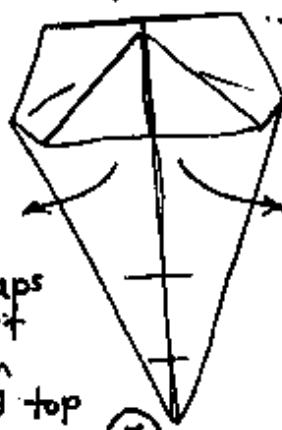

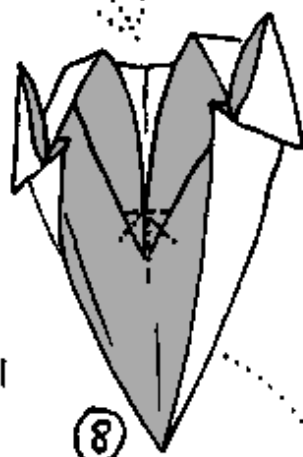

⑤ Sink on crease made in Step 1b.

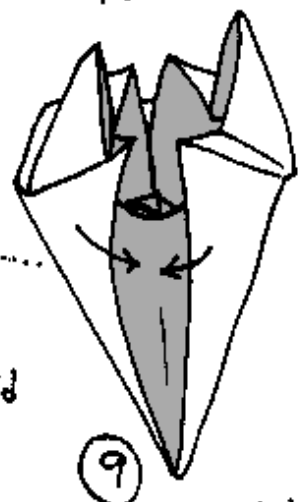

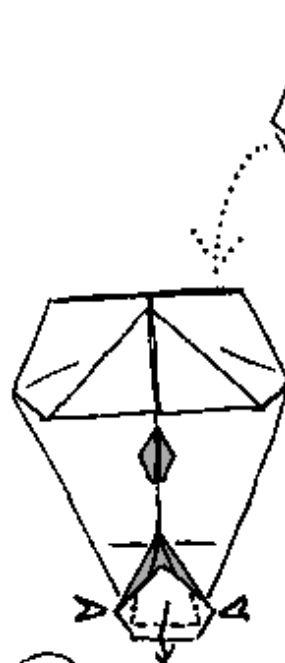

⑥ VF small flaps to a place about halfway between crease apex and top edge of model.

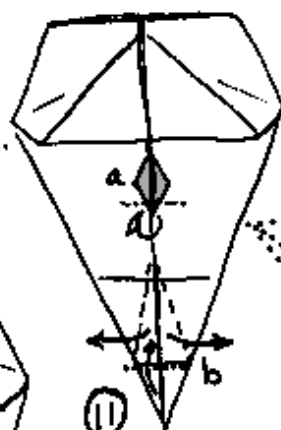

⑦ Open model down the middle.

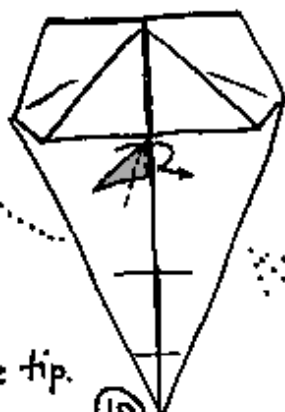

⑧ Refold tip on creases from Steps 2 and 3a to form nose.

⑨ Close up model with nose sticking out. Flatten nose to one side.

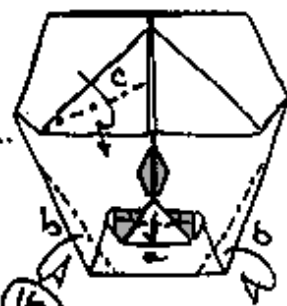

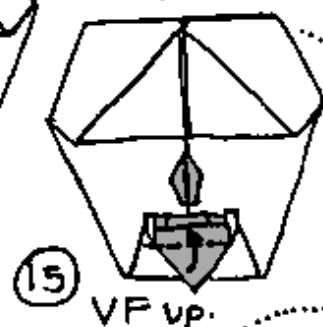

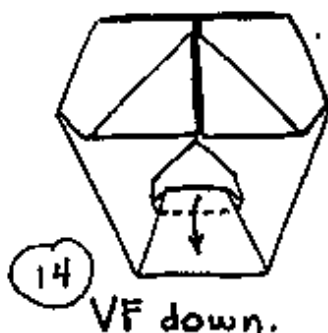

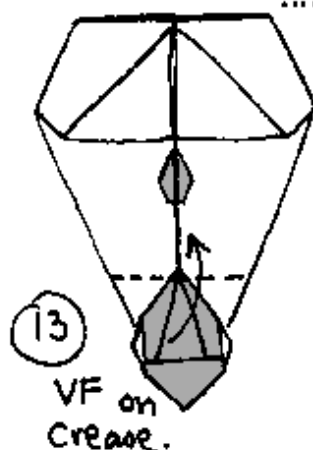

⑪ a) MtF nose tip.
b) Open flap, bringing up lower tip. Flatten.

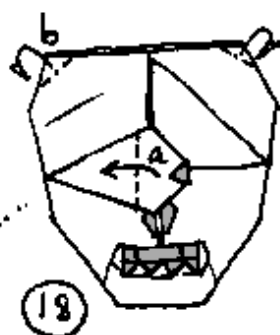

⑩ Squash-fold nose.

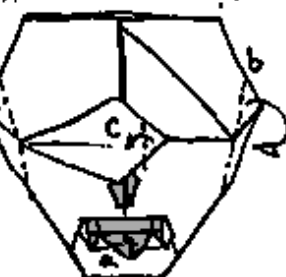

⑫ VF below widest point in a kind of petal fold. Avoid splitting the corners & push them in to relieve the stress.

- a) VF down.
b) MtF sides evenly.
c) Squash-fold.

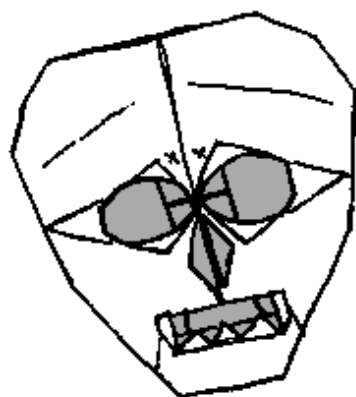

- a) VF to the left of the widest point of flap. Do not flatten corners.
b) MtF evenly.

- a) VF up.
b) MtF sides evenly.
c) VF.

Carefully, to avoid flattening left eye, repeat steps 16c, 17c and 18a on right flap.

Note: the skull shape and the features can be varied by altering placement of folds.

To keep eye in place, sharpen inner, upper edge (Xs) slightly.